VOL. 66 NO. 10

December 2017

This is the irrational season
when love blooms bright and wild.
Had Mary been filled with reason there'd have been no room for the child.

After Annunciation by Madeline l'Engle

"It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas."

I'll never forget uttering this phrase to a Starbucks barista at 6 in the morning, having been in line for two hours. I'd received an email the night before that the first 50 customers who said this phrase would receive a "limited edition free gift," and I'd convinced myself this was a good idea.

By the time I got to the front of the line, I was so embarrassed all I could muster was a whispered "It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas." The barista made me repeat it three times before reaching down and pulling out the saddest, smallest, gold coffee tumbler the world has ever seen. Needless to say, that experience has permanently put me off Black Friday shopping.

The days following Thanksgiving seem to fly by as we dash headlong into the celebration of Christmas. But before we rush ahead to the manger, this Sunday marks the beginning of Advent—the season when the church gets ready for Christmas. The season of Advent invites us to pause, to spend time noticing where we see God in our midst, and to find hope in God's promise to make all things new. The word Advent means appearance or emergence. And our calling as Christians during Advent is to watch for places where we see God's Spirit appearing or emerging in the world.

The Jesuit priest Anthony de Mello said, "There is no prayer sweeter than a grateful heart." And one of the easiest ways to notice God's presence is to reflect on what you are most grateful for. Sometimes, when things are familiar or habitual, it's easy to take them for granted. And sometimes because of our busy schedules and our emphasis on productivity, tunnel vision blinds us to the many things and people that sustain and nourish us throughout the day.

At Thanksgiving most of us naturally pause to take stock of our lives and to reflect on what we're grateful for. And I'd like to challenge all of us to make this a daily practice during Advent this year. To pause once each day and ask the question—"What am I most grateful for today?"

Making Gratitude a habit can help us be more attuned to God's presence in both the mundane and challenging moments we face. It trains our

In the midst of our busy days

In the midst of our Christmas parties and holiday shopping

Even In the midst of our long and dark nights

God appears...promising to walk with us and to continue bringing the healing,
and hope of God's kingdom
into our world...

until the day when the swords of war will be beaten into plowshares and the spears of fear and ignorance will be shaped into pruning hooks

And until that day comes we wait and we watch supporting one another and giving thanks to God.

November 21, 2017
Devotions led by Rev. Stone

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Youth Education (Don Richardson):

- Messy Church was successful, the next one is December 2, looking for more volunteers
- Christmas pageant on Dec 10th will be very spontaneous
- Sunday School rotation is going well with a contingent of 7 teachers and another group of 7 who can fill in
- Trying to create a Toddler Time for mid-week playtime for community's small kids and their parent(s)

Congregational Life (Jenn McCann):

- Halloween party went well, many costumes made it fun
- Christmas dinner will be a formal roast beef dinner, $20/adult, $5/children, under 5 free, December 9 with a reception 5-6 in library, then dinner; some music will be provided, and the tree will be up; there will be crafts and a Santa Claus for the kids

Finance (Keith Wood)

- Stewardship is $264k pledged from 79 members, target is $388k
- Crossroads Society letters are going out for members to consider including the Church in their estate planning; now there is a lapel pin, selected by Bill, a Celtic knot, rollout next year
- Debbie and Keith went to a Financial Workshop at the Presbytery and learned rental income should not be included in gross revenue for churches; churches need to have an up-to-date "policy and procedure manual" that describes what they do

Building & Grounds (Tom Ewig, absent):

- Water is good and drinkable, per Don Richardson report
- Paving in the parking lot is complete for now
- Looking for new members
- All the lighting has been upgraded to LED, uses one tenth the energy, 80% funded by the company, cost us $14k, payback of 1½ years

Membership (Jane O'Keeffe):

- Had a meeting November 2, discussed many of the same things: picture directory, piggybacking the welcome group at the Library, when to have services over Christmas in the local papers; would like to have an email list for communications

Mission & Outreach (Eileen Urban):

- MHA social dinner coming up Nov. 28, with 45-50 guests; Eileen's hospital is contributing a van to transport about 12 more than last year
- Working on drive for Chaplaincy program; Nancy Barrett looking for people to be on the Board
- 2017 Christmas offering will go to Deirdre's House, hoping they can have someone speak in church

Nominating (Tom MacCowatt):

- Julia Buteux is stepping down as Chair of Adult Ed., looking for replacement
- Five people whose Session terms are up; Tom, Carol, and Keith will return. Lisa Chapman heading up Deacon search; Mike McCann, Karen Pennant joining up.

A Note from the Stewardship Committee

We have had a wonderful response from our members so far, and as we move into December, the Stewardship Committee urges those who have not yet pledged to do so by the year's end! Your contributions enable the Church to continue its many ministries to this community and the surrounding area. At this time of year, as we reflect on the many things for which we are grateful, financially supporting our ministry can be a true expression of faith. It is also one way you can help us continue to nurture the seeds of growth we see in our church family.

WITNESS TO THE CLIMATE CONTROVERSY

January 21

Ted Blanco

In December 2017, Ted Blanco embarked on a 5-week expedition to Antarctica aboard a US ice breaker to document the scientists involved with project SOCCOM. This project designs and deploys autonomous floats to monitor the “vitals” of the Southern Ocean. The data provides critical insight into what happens deep below the surface, critical to the balance of global climate systems. As the climate changes, we must understand these complex systems before we can enact meaningful solutions. NJ resident Blanco works at Climate Central, a Princeton-based non-profit that researches and reports on our changing climate and its impact on the public. A lifelong documentary filmmaker and storyteller, he is passionate about environmental issues both affecting and caused by human behavior.

RUSSIA

February 11

Michael Reynolds

Michael A. Reynolds, Associate Professor of Near Eastern Studies at Princeton, will consider current American-Russian relations: What is it both sides want, what are the obstacles to achieving a mutually acceptable arrangement, and can any such arrangement last? He is the author of Shattering Empires: The Clash and Collapse of the Ottoman and Russian Empires, a winner of the American Historical Association’s George Louis Beer Prize, Choice’s outstanding academic title, and the Financial Times summer book list title. Dr. Reynolds, a senior fellow at the Foreign Policy Research Institute, holds a B.A. in Government and Slavic Languages from Harvard, an M.A. in Political Science from Columbia, and a Ph.D. in Near Eastern Studies from Princeton.

THE HEROIN AND OPIATE EPIDEMIC IN MORRIS COUNTY

April 22

Brad Seabury

Morris County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Brad Seabury will bring 12 years of experience in the Special Operations Division to share facts about the opiate epidemic in Morris County and what is being done to help individuals and families. Mr. Seabury will detail the latest national and local statistics and delve into how illicit drugs are distributed and sold here in the United States where approximately 80 percent of the world’s opioids are consumed. He will also describe how addiction can start and ways to combat it. Although realizing that addiction is a disease, he understands that the stigma of addiction makes getting help difficult. Representatives from the Center for Addiction Recovery Education & Success (CARES) will be on hand to provide advice to families who have been touched by addiction.

MUSIC AND WORSHIP

May 6

Dr. Gerald Liu

Rev. Gerald C. Liu, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Worship and Preaching at Princeton Theological Seminary, will be introducing his new book, slated for publication in 2017, entitled Music and the Generosity of God. In a world where access to the divine can seem impossible, Dr. Liu invites readers to experience all sounds as gifts from God. Born in Jackson, Mississippi to immigrants from Taiwan, he is an ordained United Methodist Minister and serves as a Minister-in-Residence at Church of the Village in Manhattan. With a Masters in Divinity from Emory University and a Ph.D. from Vanderbilt, Dr. Liu has taught and ministered throughout the U.S. and Europe.

CHRISTMAS OFFERING 2017 RECIPIENT

Dierdre's House

Established in 1994, Deirdre's House is the Center in Morris County for children who have suffered abuse and neglect, or witnessed family violence. As a nationally accredited Child Advocacy Center, Deirdre's House is the only entity in Morris County that provides a comprehensive multidisciplinary response to child abuse. The Center is also committed to the prevention of abuse, with community education and prevention presentations and conferences that provide information and practical knowledge to the public on child abuse education, prevention and related topics.

The programs offered at Deirdre's House play a critical role in addressing the needs of child victims of physical and sexual abuse. The Center is the only site in Morris County where a child victim under the age of 12 can be interviewed, medically treated, and counseled, all under one roof. These services are all offered free of charge, in English and Spanish, in a safe, child-focused environment.

This is important because when children are victims of violence they need extensive clinical counseling over a prolonged period of time. Counseling for these children is not a luxury, it is a necessity. With specialized counseling programs scarce, Deirdre's House is one of only a few places where professionals trained in treating childhood trauma help victims heal.

As a private, nonprofit organization, Deirdre's House relies on the support of the community to continue to provide these much needed services to our young clients. Funding helps to provide over 1,000 clinical counseling visits each year, ensuring that while a child's life may be touched by abuse, it need not be defined by it.

*While a child's life may be touched by abuse,
it need not be defined by it.*

PLEASE NOTE: THERE IS NO MORNING WORSHIP ON CHRISTMAS EVE
